U.S. lawmakers to participate in Capitol Forum

LINCOLN—Three members of Nebraska's congressional delegation are planning to participate in the 10th annual Nebraska Capitol Forum on America's Future on March 31 at the State Capitol.

U.S. Reps. Jeff Fortenberry, Lee Terry and Adrian Smith will participate via video conferencing from Washington, D.C.

More than 90 high school students and 22 teachers will gather at the daylong forum to discuss the U.S. role in today's world. The forum is a collaboration of the Nebraska Humanities Council and Secretary of State John Gale. The students and teachers will represent 22 high schools in Lincoln, Omaha, Bellevue, Ashland, Cambridge, Chadron, Dodge, Genoa, Hampton, Hastings, Hemingford, Holdrege, Howells, North Platte, Springfield, Stella, Sterling, Sumner, and Wilcox.

Capitol Forum is a civic education initiative designed to give high school students a voice in public policy. For six months, students have studied and deliberated foreign policy issues in the classroom. On March 31, student representatives from each school will engage in discussion among themselves and with policymakers and other elected officials on such issues as immigration, nuclear weapon proliferation, terrorism, international trade, and the global environment. They will deliberate on four distinct options for the future of U.S. foreign policy, culminating in a conversation with members of Nebraska's congressional delegation.

The day begins at 8:30 a.m. with a welcome by Gov. Dave Heineman in the Warner Chamber. Deliberation on the four futures begins at 1:40 p.m. The students' conversation with Reps. Fortenberry, Terry and Smith is scheduled for 2:45 p.m.

After the March 31 forum, teachers and students will return home to share their experiences with classmates, broadening the impact of Capitol Forum to more than 1,200 students statewide. These classes will complete a ballot describing their view of America's future role in the world. Results of the ballot will be compiled and distributed to elected officials, Nebraska schools and news media.

Capitol Forum is a Choices for the 21st Century project, an outreach educational program of Brown University's Watson Institute for International Studies.

In Nebraska, Capitol Forum is funded in part by the Cooper Foundation, Milton and Miriam Waldbaum Family Foundation in memory of Miriam Waldbaum, Merrill Lynch, A to Z Printing, Anne Stuart Batchelder, and the Nebraska Cultural Endowment.
