Any individual born in the United States is considered a U.S. citizen. This includes children whose parents are not U.S. citizens, such as undocumented alien parents or parents with student visas.

Applicants/Clients who declare themselves to be U.S. citizens and meet all other eligibility requirements must be given a reasonable opportunity to present satisfactory documentation of citizenship or nationality. Medical benefits must not be denied, delayed, reduced, or terminated pending receipt of the requested citizenship verification. If the Department has requested verification, such as an out-of-state birth certificate, benefits will not be denied or terminated while awaiting receipt. Once an individual has declared him/herself a U.S. citizen or national and has provided all other information to determine eligibility, benefits must be provided.

If the applicant/client fails to cooperate in providing documentation, the applicant/client is ineligible.

5-003 VERIFICATION OF CITIZENSHIP AND IMMIGRATION STATUS: The Federal Data Services (hub) shall be used to verify citizenship and immigration status, if available. If the hub is not available to verify citizenship and immigration status, SAVE (Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements Program System of Records) or receipt of Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI), or Medicare is sufficient proof of citizenship or lawfully admitted alien status.

5-004 REASONABLE OPPORTUNITY PERIOD: A ninety (90)-day timeframe is given to verify an individual's satisfactory immigration status if the Department or applicant/client cannot provide verification. A notice shall be sent to inform the applicant/client of the reasonable opportunity period. The reasonable opportunity period extends ninety (90) days from the date on which the notice is received by the applicant/client, which means five (5) days after the date of the notice unless the applicant/client shows s/he did not receive the notice within the five(5)-day period.

If more time is needed to complete the verification process, or the applicant/client requests more time and is acting in good faith to obtain documentation, the reasonable opportunity period is subject to be extended with Central Office approval.

If citizenship and immigration status has not been verified by the end of the reasonable opportunity period, Medicaid benefits shall be terminated. If the individual appeals the case closure, the Medicaid case is not subject to reinstatement pending the outcome of a fair hearing.

The reasonable opportunity period encompasses all aspects of the process to verify citizenship immigration status, including not only time for an individual to provide documentation but also time for the Department to resolve inconsistencies or conclude the electronic verification process.

5-005 VERIFICATION OF ALIEN STATUS: When an applicant/client states that one or more of the unit members is an alien, the applicant/client is required to present verification for each alien member. If the applicant/client has documentation containing an alien registration number, the alien status must be verified using the Federal Data Services hub or SAVE system. See additional available information at Appendix 477-000-004.

5-006 REPATRIATION PROGRAM: The Repatriation Program provides temporary assistance, care, and treatment for up to ninety (90) days for U.S. citizens or dependents of U.S. citizens who have returned from foreign countries. To qualify for repatriation assistance, the individual must be returned from a foreign country because s/he is destitute or ill (including mentally ill) or because of war, threat of war, or a similar crisis. A request must be made by the State Department to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to receive the individual in the United States and to provide the necessary care, treatment, and assistance.

The assistance may include reception service, food, shelter, clothing, and transportation. It may also include payment for special services such as medical and psychiatric care. Any assistance that is provided through General Assistance or Emergency Assistance may be reimbursed through federal funds.

Central Office will contact the appropriate local office on all arriving cases. If it appears that the individual is eligible for another form of assistance, a referral must be made (e.g., to the Social Security Administration, the Veterans Administration, etc.) or an application for categorical assistance must be completed.

5-006.01 Eligibility Period: Assistance may be provided for up to ninety (90) days from the date the individual arrives in the United States. If the individual needs assistance beyond ninety (90) days and is not eligible for Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (RSDI), SSI, or categorical assistance, the local office shall contact Central Office.

5-006.02 Medical Payments: All payments for medical care must be made at rates no higher than those paid by Medicaid.
