Private Education Tax Credits referendum will appear on November 2024 General Election ballot

The Nebraska Secretary of State's office will keep the Education Tax Credits referendum on the 2024 General Election ballot. Attached to this news release is a copy of the letter sent today to Nebraska Senator Lou Ann Linehan and the referendum sponsors.

The decision follows a request from Senator Linehan to remove the Private Education Tax Credits referendum from ballot.

In the fall of 2023, county election officials and the Secretary of State's office completed the signature verification and certification of the referendum. The petition referendum documents filed by the petition sponsors can be found on the Secretary of State's website here.
